PROJECTS

RENEWED

WALL HOUSE

Basic Design Approach:

- 1) Basic Design Approach: Based on material research that minimizes environmental effect
- 2) Optimum use of waste materials, unskilled labours and local communities.

Based on material research that minimizes environmental effect

2) Optimum use of waste materials, unskilled labours and local communities.

WALL HOUSE

Wall House is situated outside the planned city limits of Aurville, in Aaravindale, an area designated for research and experimentation. The architect's residence compactly accommodates everyday needs while effortlessly expanding to absorb guests. It attempted not only to redefine the building program for a private residence, but also tested various spatial and technological innovations to inform other projects. Spatially, it redefined borders and transitional spaces in response to the climatic conditions and contemporary culture.
